

Revised History

General Flynn and Obamagate

By Al Benson May 31, 2020

After reviewing all the documents available, the Justice Department found no grounds for the charges against General Michael Flynn and so they sensibly dropped them.

However, the radical leftist judge General Flynn was forced to appear before has decided he's not happy with that verdict so he is trying to drag the process out by not signing off on the case. He has called for yet another liberal judge to sign on to see if he can find anyone, anywhere, that might possibly have some dirt on General Flynn that they can pull in to keep this charade going, preferably until just before the election in November.

It's really all about trying to ensure that Trump doesn't get a second term.

The charges against General Flynn were prompted by operatives from the outgoing Obama administration in an attempt to cripple the incoming Trump administration before it even got started.

This was a blatant attempt by Obama's Deep State bosses to not only cripple the incoming Trump administration but also to prevent it from making many changes in Washington that would change much of what the corrupt Obama administration had done and that could not be permitted. Operatives from the Obama administration have continued to try to halt the Trump administration from implementing its own agenda.

They are still doing it!

All the fake news crap thrown against the wall by leftist Adam Schiff was an attempt at that. He claimed he had mountains of evidence that Trump colluded with the Russians. That was three years ago. To this date no one has seen one scintilla of Comrade Schiff's "evidence." That is probably because it is non-existent.

Then we had the Mueller "investigation" which was another leftist exercise in futility. As much as he hated to have to admit it, Comrade Mueller also found zero evidence of Trump collusion with Russia, though he stalled for two years before being forced to admit that.

And then we had the Democrat's impeachment of Trump—yet another exercise in socialist buffoonery. Naturally it went nowhere, but not to worry. The Democrats plan to do it all over again—and if it fails again, why they will make try number 3 without doubt.

It has finally been shown, as if it needed to be anymore, that the Obama administration, the most corrupt in our history, was responsible for trying to overthrow the results of the 2016 election in an attempted coup. What remains is to be seen what will be done about that. Will true justice be served, and those people prosecuted? Or will it be the standard Deep State response of a slap on the wrist and back to the business of screwing the American people as usual?

The American people deserve justice. Will they get it? The attempted coup against the president they elected has now been exposed—no thanks to our "news" media who have given cover to the people that attempted this illegal coup.

I am afraid, at this point, when it comes to this kind of thing, that I am from Missouri—you gotta “show me.” The people in the Obama administration that perpetrated this coup—Brennan, Clapper, Comey, and a whole bunch of other leftist worthies need to do some serious jail time. Will that happen? Let’s just say I am less than certain at this point.