Destroying The Building Blocks

By Al Benson March 3rd, 2022

A commentator on Fox News recently made a couple statements I had to completely agree with. He said the agenda of the Biden Regime is to destroy the building blocks of our society. He also said that every new strain of the Chinese Virus that comes along is yet another opportunity for the Deep State mentalities in Washington to grab for more power. I can't disagree with either of those assessments.

The Biden Regime is truly a major destabilizing influence on this country—whether you are talking about the horrific situation at our Southern border, the growing inflation, the obscene price of gas, or what is transpiring in those indoctrination centers we still charitably refer to as public schools.

It is all contributing to the downfall of the country—and I am sure this may well be the true intent. It would seem that we have a regime in Washington that is feverishly working to turn this country into some sort of a socialist “utopia.”

They are trying to put our oil and natural gas companies out of business. Some Biden officials have admitted as much. The fact that doing such will cripple the economies of such states as Texas, Oklahoma, and Louisiana bothers them not one iota. After all, most of the folks in such states voted for Trump in the last election so they deserve a little “payback” for such a rampant indiscretion!

The Biden Regime plans to make sure they get that.

Those “energy wonders” currently inhabiting Washington want us to learn to use, for our energy, wind turbines made in Communist China. Anything that will benefit Communist China and hurt the American public is totally alright with them because that's the name of their game. Doing that virtue signals to the world their support for the leftist “green new deal” being promoted by AOC and all the lefties in what passes for Congress nowadays. The American public needs to realize what the Biden Regime is really all about, and that, if given enough time, they will destroy this country—all the while claiming they are trying to “build back better.”
