The Real Coup Happened In 1861 (And it's still in operation)

By Al Benson April 2nd, 2022

Back around 2014, Rush Limbaugh stated that Barack Obama and his regime were leading a “coup d’etat” to take over the United States. Limbaugh said this on his radio show, which reached a big audience. At that point, he noted the then recently discovered National Security Agency domestic surveillance (spying) programs that were being carried on against millions of Americans, all in the name of “fighting terrorism.” Of course, the supposed “terrorists” that that Marxist regime was fighting against turned out to be patriotic Americans that opposed its Marxist agenda. After all, doesn’t opposing any form of communism or socialism automatically qualify you as a “terrorist”? According to the Obama and Biden regimes it does.

While I can agree with Limbaugh’s rationale, I feel his timing for a coup in this country was off by about 150 years. The real (and ongoing coup in this country) took place back in 1861, during the early days of the Lincoln administration. All Obama, and now Biden, were and are trying to do is to mop up the residual resistance that still lingers (and seems to be growing right now). The puppet-masters that put them both in office expected them to do just that.

Professor Thomas di Lorenzo noted, in an article while Obama was still in office, that: “He (Lincoln) illegally suspended Habeas Corpus and imprisoned tens of thousands of Northern political critics without due process; shut down over 300 opposition newspapers; committed treason by invading the Southern states (article 3. Section 3 of the Constitution defines treason as ‘only levying war upon the states’ or giving aid and comfort to their enemies’ which is, of course, exactly what Lincoln did). He enforced military conscription with the murders of hundreds of New York City draft protesters in 1863 and with the mass execution of deserters from the army;...confiscated firearms and issued an arrest warrant for the Chief Justice (Roger Taney) when that jurist issued an opinion that only Congress could legally suspend Habeas Corpus...”

Sounds as if Obama, and now Biden, may have taken lessons from “Honest Abe.” After this coup was operational for a period, Lincoln was duly accorded the position of secular deity by the early, socialist-leaning Republican Party, and to this day, both parties have continued to promote this falsehood—and why not? Both parties are controlled by the same people.

The point here is that, no matter what Obama did and Biden is trying to continue, Lincoln already did it in some form or other. And since Lincoln got away with it, it has now been legitimized in the “history” books, with similar things having been done by Obama, and now Biden, you have to consider that Abraham Lincoln’s ongoing coup has been wildly successful. It has never been repudiated or reversed. Indeed, it has been affirmed. With their wholehearted Lincoln worship, many sincere and patriotic Americans have routinely affirmed it—and continue to do so—not realizing what they are doing.

And therein lies a major part of our problem. Until we get the history of the War Between the States right and what some of those people involved really did, we will continue to misconstrue and misinterpret everything ongoing from there.
