

Revised History

Reasons To Ditch the United Nations

By Al Benson June 2nd, 2022

It should come as no surprise that the agenda of the United Nations is akin to an albatross around the neck of the United States, dragging us down to the worst possible depths of One World Government. If such ever succeeds in happening, then you can kiss your God-given liberties goodbye.

John F. McManus, President Emeritus of the John Birch Society has written recently about the UN. He has written, in part, “The United Nations never ceases to find ways to build its steadily growing power over mankind. For example, UNESCO works to propagandize children’s schooling and detach people from their traditional cultures. The International Monetary Fund has plans for a world currency that it will manage. UNICEF intends to teach everyone how to raise children in a New World Order... Many more of the UN’s agencies, bureaus, commissions, and conferences aim to control mankind in various spheres. Each has the unstated goal: World power over everyone. The latest move toward the UN’s frightening goal is a global pandemic treaty slated for adoption in 2024, a scheme that would strengthen the organization’s authority over mankind. Although we don’t yet know the specific details of this proposed treaty, we can expect it to vastly empower the World Health Organization while further enabling worldwide medical tyranny.”

The Biden/Obama Regime submitted 13 amendments to the UN to be put into this treaty. I don’t know if Congress got to vote on these or not, but I understand 12 of them have been rejected. That doesn’t mean that some of them might not still be reinserted somewhere down the line if the Biden/Obama team and the UN can get by with it.

Mr. McManus continued: “These amendments would also strengthen the organization’s ability to take unilateral actions and meddle in countries’ internal affairs, and could lead to an expansion of the CDC’s power to detain Americans for medical reasons... More information about both WHO schemes can be found at <https://gojt.us/vo7x>

I have no doubt that the Biden/Obama Regime is anxiously looking for way to deprive Americans of their rights and liberties. It’s what they are all about. And what better way to attempt to do that than by ceding those rights and liberties to the world’s premier One World Government organization so it can seek to abrogate those rights and reduce us all to United Nations serfdom? The Biden/Obama Regime has a plan for your liberties and it ain’t the one you could hope for.