

Revised History

The “Great Reset” Ain’t Going As They Hoped It Would

By Al Benson May 28th, 2022

Today’s globalist political and religious establishment has been pushing what it’s devotees call “the Great Reset” for some time now. This is supposed to “reset” our culture, history, and heritage in a whole new light and enable us to do away with all those old, outmoded concepts that most of us live by daily. It is all supposed to be “new and innovative”, and we are all supposed to rush forward and eagerly embrace it. There is nothing “new” about it. It is as old as the French Revolution, and, quite probably, can be traced all the way back to Genesis 3, verses 1-5, in Holy Scripture.

It was with interest that I read an article on <https://www.lewrockwell.com> by Eamon McKinney called “The Globalists’ Race Against Time.” I probably won’t agree with all of McKinney’s arguments, but he does provide us with food for thought and some insightful commentary. Regarding the Great Reset, he observes that “The main obstacle to this grand vision is that not surprisingly very few countries wish to go along with it. The Globalists know their game is coming to an end and the Great Reset is their way of ensuring that the same financial cabal that has brought the world to its current lamentable state will continue to rule over all in the next world order...Time, however, is not on the Globalists’ side, recent events have demonstrated that they are aware of this and are accelerating their timelines.”

He then commented on the Trump presidency by saying: “The election of Trump in 2016 wasn’t supposed to happen...An outsider without the backing of a political party and with seemingly the entire mainstream media against him, his victory was considered all but impossible. Yet win he did, and it seemed he spent the entire four years of his presidency battling against the Globalist faction, both internationally and within America. Washington felt cheated, not only was Trump an ‘outsider’ he was also a disrupter...he was indisputably an ‘America First Nationalist’, he was anti-NATO, and a vocal anti-Globalist. There would be no Great Reset under Trump, he was an obstacle to the agenda and had to be removed. Which in 2020 in a blatantly fraudulent election he was. Should Trump run again in 2024 and all indications are that he will, he would likely win an honest election in a landslide. The return of Trump would provide another major obstacle to the Globalist agenda. Expect that all efforts will be expended to prevent another Trump presidency...”

McKinney then turned to this new World Health Organization treaty which will require all countries to surrender their sovereignty to the WHO should another planned pandemic arise—which it surely will. He says “That they (the Globalists) would even think that post-Covid the WHO enjoys that level of confidence, is delusional. This transparent power grab is easily recognized for what it is, in the unlikely event that it gains enough traction, expect another pandemic to follow shortly after...There are few nations that don’t harbor deep resentment towards the notoriously corrupt and inept WHO and its genocidal Sugar Daddy Bill Gates. The sheer audacity of the proposal stinks of desperation.”

McKinney concludes his article with: “A Great Reset will happen, just not the one intended by the Globalists. They may have to settle for the Great Decoupling instead...The NWO (New World Order) that they have been lusting after for generations is likely to be restricted to Western Europe and North America, or about 15% of the World’s population...The Emperor has no clothes, as all can now see, their game is old, tired, and predictable, and they have no new ideas.”

As I said at the outset, their game is as old as the French Revolution and probably goes all the way back to Genesis 3, verses 1-5, in the Bible. Those with discernment can see this and expose it accordingly as it needs to be exposed and opposed.